The One Law That Really Counts

As peoples, Jews and Samaritans despised each other. Common ancestry or shared scriptures did not lessen, but rather deepened, the animosity. Following the end of the Babylonian captivity, two temples were built over the years (some five centuries before Jesus told today's parable). One in Jerusalem and another in the Samaritan heartland at Mount Gerizim, these temples set in stone and mortar the great schism between these two peoples.

Five centuries after Jesus, Christians and Samaritan also fought. We don't need to be reminded of the awful history of Jewish and Christian relations. In the face of this sad human saga, we have today's parable of the Good Samaritan.

Jesus, when questioned on what is needed to inherit eternal life, asks "What is written in the law? The lawyer answers succinctly. "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength and with all your mind; and your neighbor as yourself."

The Universal nature of this moral law is plainly visible for all. These are not faraway words. The Samaritan and Jew of our gospel parable epitomize the literally innumerable religious, cultural, linguistic, or other divides that have split humanity apart since our collective story began. With the grace of God, may we strive to follow the law that Jesus and the lawyer so wisely praised.

Countdown to St. Mary of Mercy Church's Diamond Jubilee
(eleventh in a series)
The Missionary Confraternity of Christian Doctrine

Before becoming pastor of St. Mary of Mercy Parish in 1921, Fr. Daniel Lawless had been appointed by Bishop Canevin as Director of the Missionary Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. The M CCD was the forerunner of the present CCD Program in the diocese. Fr. Lawless's headquarters were at St. Mary of Mercy. The M CCD originated in 1908 when a group of Catholic women began visiting nearby mining towns to provide children with the religious training that was otherwise not available because of the few churches in number. As director of the M CCD, Fr. Lawless, often carrying a missionary pack on his back, covered 10 counties in Western Pennsylvania. He celebrated Mass by permission of the Bishop wherever he went, often using a table or assembled boards for an altar. When he became pastor of St. Mary of Mercy, the headquarters of the M CCD were transferred to our parish. By 1936 there were five priests in the parish and the M CCD, working as assistants to Fr. Lawless, all of them crowding into a rectory that had been designed for only one priest.

Coming up: "The need, again, for a new larger church"
