Pastoral Team Notes

Today we celebrate the Transfiguration. In the midst of the disciples' fears, Jesus reveals to them a tiny sliver of what the resurrection will be like. In this vision can we see the unity of all life? There are Moses and Elijah representing the Hebrew tradition. There are James, Peter and John, the future writers and preachers. There is God in the mystery of a voice coming from a cloud. There is Christ in glory. This vision gives the apostles hope to carry them through the journey to Jerusalem and the suffering that will occur. We still celebrate this vision of the Transfiguration today when at Easter we drape the cross with a dazzlingly white cloth.

Is it possible that we might be transfigured today? It is possible for us to glimpse a sliver of God's glory and then be renewed to carry on with our Christian lives? Let our prayer today be, "Lord, transfigure me!"
